Family Owned and Operated - 3 Generations Strong

Keeping workers safe, since 1977

DiVal got its start in Buffalo, NY—stocking products in the basement, packing orders in the garage, and delivering PPE from the trunk of a car. It was a small family business built on hustle, trust, and doing right by every customer.

Three generations later, we've grown to 24+ locations across the country. But we still operate with that same hands-on mindset—working hard, staying responsive, and always putting people first.

Because protecting workers isn't just our business - It's our legacy.

Fall Protection Safety Equipment

Having the right fall protection gear can mean the difference between life and death. Whether you need a dependable harness, a durable safety lanyard, or a secure anchorage connector, we have the expertise to match you with the right solution.

Most workers never expect to fall—but thousands do every year. The key is following the ABC's of fall protection: Anchorage, Body Harness, and Connector. When a worker is properly connected to a strong anchorage point, wearing a correctly fitted harness, and using the right connector, the system works as intended—and everyone goes home safe.
